Nature of Proceedings: ORDER OF THE COURT

REGARDING PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Case No. 77612 PFN: ANJ502 CEN: 3011165

Petition is denied. The Petition fails to state a prima facie case for relief. Even though Petitioner has submitted numerous documents in support of his Petition, review of the transcripts provided and documents pertaining to the January 20, 2006 hearing, indicate that there was no abuse of discretion by the Board of Prison Terms. The factual basis of the BPT's decision granting or denying parole is subject to a limited judicial review. A Court may inquire only whether some evidence in the record before the BPT supports the decision to deny parole. The nature of the offense alone can be sufficient to deny parole. (In Re Rosenkrantz (2002) 29 Cal 4th 616, 652, 658, 682. The record presented to this Court for review demonstrates that there was certainly some evidence, including, but not limited to the committing offense, Petitioner's limited programming while in custody. Petitioner's insufficient participation in self help and therapy programs, Petitioner's lack of alternative parole plans, Petitioner's limited viable job skills necessary to secure employment once released and the board's impression that Petitioner is in need of additional one on one counseling to enable him to deal with stress and pressure. There is nothing in the record that indicates that the Board's decision was arbitrary or capricious, nor that Petitioner's equal protection or due process rights were violated. Thus, Petitioner has failed to meet his burden of sufficiently proving or supporting the allegations that serve as the basis for habeas relief.

THE BOARD OF PRISON TERMS ILLEGALLY USED PENAL CODE SECTION 3041 (b) [THE EXCEPTION] TO FIND PETITIONER UNSUITABLE FOR PAROLE, THE DECISION WAS ARBITRARY AND CAPRICIOUS, INDIRECT VIOLATION OF PETITIONER'S STATE AND FEDERAL DUE PROCESS RIGHTS. THERE IS NOT A MODICUM OF EVIDENCE THAT PETITIONER IS A CURRENT THREAT TO SOCIETY OR UNSUITABLE FOR PAROLE.

On JANUARY 24, , 2006, Petitioner HAROLD D. DYSON , (hereinafter "Petitioner"), was provided a Life Term Parole Consideration Hearing before the Board of Prison Terms (hereinafter "Board"; please refer to Exhibit "A" which is the Hearing Transcript, hereinafter "HT".) Said Board hearing was petitioner's EIGHT'S (8th) parole suitability hearing. Petitioner's minimum eligible release date was JULY 1992 1. The purpose of this Board hearing was for the setting of Petitioner's term uniformly 2 to his offense and for a finding of suitability for parole (please See Penal code § 3041.5; In re Edward Ramirez, 94 Cal. App. 4th 541 (2001); M<sup>c</sup>Quillion v. Duncan, (9th Cir.) 306 F. 3d 895; In re Norman G. Morrall, (2002) 102 Cal. App. 4th 280; In re Rosenkrantz, (2002) 29 Cal. 4th 660; In re Mark Smith, (2003) Cal. App. 4th 343; and the recent Biggs v. Terhune, (2003 9th Cir.) 334 F. 3 d 910.

The consequent result of this Board hearing was an erroneous and unlawful finding of unsuitability and a release date was not set; Petitioner was given a TWO YEARS (2) year denial

<sup>1 -</sup> The Court of Appeal in In re George Scott, (2004) 119 Cal. App. 4th 871, reaffirmed the rationale of the Ramirez and Smith Courts when it declared "...parole is the rule, rather than the exception, and conviction for second degree murder does not automatically render one unsuitable. (In re Smith, (2003) 114 Cal., App. 4th 343, 366). In re Ramirez, supra, 94 Cal.App.4th 549 ...[a]ll violent crimes demonstrates the perpetrator's potential for posing a grave risk to public safety, yet parole is mandatory for violent felons serving determinate sentences. Pen. Code § 3000, subd. (b)(1).) And the Legislature has clearly expressed its intent that when murders - who are the grate majority of inmates serving indeterminate sentences - approach their minimum eligible parole date, the Board 'shall normally set a parole release date..." (id. at p. 570). 2 - The Court of Appeal on June 24, 2004, in In re George Scott, supra, 119 Cal. App. 4th at 887 fn.7, also reaffirmed the Legislative Intent of Uniform Terms by stating: "The first two sentences of the DSL declare 'that the purpose of imprisonment or a crime is punishment' and that '[t]his purpose is best served by terms proportionate to the seriousness of the offense with provisions for uniformity in the sentences of offenders committing the same offense under similar circumstances. (Pen. Code, § 1170, subd. (a)(1).) Nothing in the DSL or its legislative history suggests that legislative concern with uniformity was limited to those serving determinate terms. Penal Code 3041 shows that this interest does extend to individuals such as [petitioner] who are serving indeterminate life terms. (id., citing, Ramirez, supra, 94 Cal. App. 4th at 559.)

27 28 and did not appeal this decision through the Administrative remedy because the Board of Prison Terms has eliminated the BPT Appeals Unit and no longer allows for the filing of administrative appeals on BPT denials of parole for indeterminately sentenced prisoners such as myself. Petitioner submits that the Board's regulation, that is the California Code of Regulations (hereinafter "CCR"), $2402 (a), DEMANDS that the Board set a release date unless Petitioner CURRENTLY presents a risk of danger to the public. Petitioner submits that the representing District Attorney did not provide any new and /or additional evidence whatsoever that Petitioner was an unreasonable risk, a danger to the public, or otherwise unsuitable for parole.

Additionally, Petitioner submits that the Board speaks in meaningless generalities and fails to address the exact nature of Petitioner's CURRENT character. By not doing so, the Board violated the intent and spirit Penal Code (hereinafter "PC"), § 3041.5<sup>3</sup>, and In re Ramirez, supra, which dictates that "[T]he Board shall NORMALLY set a parole release." (citing Biggs v. Terhune, et al., supra).

The Court in Biggs, supra, held that the Board's continued use of the crime as a basis for denial of parole violates both State and Federal due process. For the past SEVENTEEN years (__17) the Petitioner has had no occurrence of serious violent disciplinary action, thus exemplifying himself as a model prisoner; Petitioner seeks acknowledgement of the facts that since 6/1/98, there has been thereafter a continuous (9) year history free of any disciplinary action and or occurrence. Petitioner submits that the Board's failure to uniformly measure his offense and setting his term proportionately to others similarly situated, and to find him suitable for parole, violates both State and Federal due process. Also, the current policy of the Board, which will be discussed more fully infra, is the setting of a parole date which is all too often the exception rather than the norm, and thus violates the Petitioner's liberty interest that is present in a parole date; In re Rosenkrantz, supra; McQuillion v. Duncan, supra; Biggs v. Terhune, et al., supra. At the Petitioner's Board hearing, the Board relied SOLELY on the commitment offense and prior history to justify it's unlawful finding of unsuitability. Beginning at HT, pg. _______, the Board stated: BEGINNING AT LINE (13)"THE OFFENSE WAS CARRIED OUT IN AN ESPECIALLY CRUEL AND CALLOUS MANNER," AT LINE (22), THE OFFENSE WAS CARRIED OUT IN A DISPASSIONATE MANNER, DEMONS-TRATING AN EXCEPTIONALLY CALLOUS DISREGARD FOR HUMAN SUFFERING." PAGE(45) LINE 5-thru 7. " AS TO YOUR PRIOR RECORD YOU HAVE NO PRIOR RECORD AS A JUVENILE OR CONVICTIONS." 3 - There is no evidence that the crime is "particularly egregious" to justify the use of the exception of PC § 3042(b); In re Norman Morrali, supra, the court concluded "[W]e agree that an inmate cannot be denied parole simply on the type of offense he committed." (see In re Minnis, 7 Cal. 3d at pg. 647). To the contrary, it falls squarely in the Roard's own proportionality matrix "B_III". Without post-conviction credits the Petitioner has served THELE 123) years ... given post-conviction credits - plus years exceeding plus years · exceeding his matrix - by EIFTHTEEN (15) years. There is no evidence that Petitioner is a current risk or threat to society and the Board's conclusions are not supported by the record (see Biggs, supra,)

1	In addition, and with regard to the Petitioner's suitability, the board erred in it's conclusion that
2	Petitioner's Psychiatric Report was not supportive of release ( please refer to HT pg. 45 - 46 ), or that Petitioner needed additional therapy. Petitioner's Psychiatric Reports have been much to the contrary, and
3 4	specifically, Dr. JOE REED, Ph.D. STAFF PSYCHOLOGIST ctf stated (clinician observations (XV) A, THIS INMATE IS COMPETENT AND RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS BEHAVIOR. HE HAS THE CAPACITY TO ABIDE BY INSTUTIONAL STANDARDS.
5	B. THIS INMATE DOES NOT HAVE A MENTAL DISORDER WHICH WOULD NECESSITATE TREATMENT, EITHE DURRING HIS INCARCERATION PERIOD OR FOLLOWING UPON PAROLE.
6	C. THIS INMATE DOES NOT APPEAR TO HAVE A SIGNIFICANT DRUG OR ALCOHOL PROBLEM, AND THER ARE NO RECOMMENDATIONS IN THIS AREA.
9	And under "Assessment of Dangerousness" Dr. JOE REED, Ph.D. STAFF PSYCHOLOGIST (CIF) stated:  A. HIS RISK FOR VIOLENT BEHAVIOR WITHIN A CONTROLLED SETTING IS CONSIDERED TO BE
10	LOW RELATIVE TO THIS LEVEL 11 INMATE POPULATIO. THIS CONCLUSION IS BASED OPON SEVERAL FACTORS.
11	B. IF RELEASED TO THE COMMUNITY, HIS VIOLENCE POTENTIAL IS CLINICALLY ESTIMATED TO BE NO GREATER THAN THE AVERAGE CITIZENS.
12	C. THERE ARE NO SIGNIFICANT RISK FACTOR WHICH MAY BE PRECURSORS TO VIOLENCE FOR THIS INDIVIDUAL.
14	(see Psych Evaluation Exhibit "" attached hereto).
15	Petitioner's Counselor's Report, authored by CC-I G. PEABODY., has placed his
16	level of dangerousness at low to moderate. Wherein CC-I G, PEABODY, in part, states:
18	DOCUMENTATION IN HIS CENTRAL FILE INDICATES THAT HE WAS SUFFERING FROM MULTIPLE
19	STRESSORS AT THE TIME THAT HAVE SINCE DISSIPATED. THEREFORE, CONSIDERING THE COMMITMENT OFFENSE, PRIOR RECORD AND PRISON ADJUSTMENT, THIS WRITER BELIVES THAT THE PRISONER WOULD POBABLY CONTINUE TO POSE THE LOW DEGREE OF THREAT TO THE
20	PUBLIC AT THIS TIME, IF RELEASED FROM PRISON THAT HE HAD BEEN ASSESSED IN THE (see Exhibit "C" attached hereto). PREVIOUS REPORT TO THE BOARD OF PRISON TERMS.
21	Additionally, the Board ignored that Petitioner has been deemed by the California Department of
22	Corrections a Model prisoner with A-1-A status, and Not a threat to society, and further ignored that
23	Petitioner's crime is not "particularly egregious" by placing Petitioner in a Level II prison setting. 4
24	4 - California Code of Regulations, Title 15, section 3375.2 subd. (7)(A) states "An inmate serving and like term shall not be housed in a Level I or II facility if any of the following case factors are present: The Com-
25	mitment offense involved unusual violence" And on June 24, 2004, the Court of Appeal in In Core
26	Scott, supra, 119 Cal.App.4th at 892 fn.11, found that the Board's regulation provide that even if the crir is "exceptionally callous" an inmate may be found suitable for parole. The Court declared that "Under the
27	Board regulations, base terms for life prisoners are not calculated until after an inmate is deemed suitable 'release. (§ 2282, subd. (a).) The regulations therefore contemplate that an inmate may be deemed suitable.
28	for release even though his offense demonstrated 'exceptionally callous disregard for human surrering.  2402, subd. (c)(1)(D).)" (id.)

28 denial; the Court concluded:

Again, In re Norman G. Morrall, supra, the Court concluded "A refusal to consider the particular circumstances relevant to an inmate's individual suitability for parole would be contrary to law." Moreover, the Court in Biggs, supra, addressed the Board's continued illegal usage of the crime and / or prior history to justify a denial of parole:

> "...a continued reliance... on an unchanging factor, the circumstances of the offense and conduct prior to imprisonment, runs contrary to the rehabilitative goals espoused by the prison system and could result in a due process violation". (Biggs, supra, 334 F.3d at 917).

In Biggs, supra, the appeal was pursuant to his initial suitability hearing. The Petitioner has now had EIGHT (8) Board hearings and submits that his most recent denial rests solely on the commitment offense, and therefore violates both State and Federal due process. Most importantly, there is no evidence that the public requires a lengthier period of incarceration (please refer to PC § 3041 (b)), in relation to other instances of the same crime (please refer to 3041. 5).

Petitioner submits understanding and perspective of the crime is compelled by the Board's own proportionately matrix (please refer to CCR Division 2, §2403 (c). The matrix scale and rating of the more common and routine variations of murder appear to be codification of when a crime of this nature can be more egregious than average. Petitioner submits that his crime falls squarely in the matrix [category of 18-19-20' (B-III). With post-conviction credits, Petitioner has exceeded the matrix by more ( 15 ) years - and withour post-conviction credit application, the Petitioner has served his matrix. The Board fails in any attempt to substantiate why Petitioner's crime is so heinous as to require that Petitioner be expected time and time again from the general rule that a parole date shall normally be set; please see In re Ramirez, supra, wherein the court:

> "The Board must weigh the inmate's criminal conduct not against ordinary social norms, but against other instances of the same crime or crimes. (Ramirez, supra, 94 Cal.App.4th at p. 570).

Petitione: submits that the record is devoid of the Board making such a comparison. Similarly, Petitioner's Psychiatric Report evidence, like Biggs, supra, is supportive of release; contrary to the Board's erroneous and specious findings (please see Exhibit "B" and "C"). The Court in Biggs. audressed the Board's illegal usage of needed therapy and other illegal reasons to justify a highly illegal

"The record in this case and the transcript of Bigg's hearing before the Board clearly show that many of the conclusions and factors relied on by the Board were devoid of evidentiary basis." (Biggs, supra, 334 F.3d at p. 915)

ì

The Court in Biggs, supra, went on to warn the Board that while there was "some evidence" to use the crime as a basis for denial at his initial hearing, the board's continued use of the crime as a basis for continuous denials would be violative of Bigg's Federal due process rights. Petitioner submits that the Board's sole usage of the initial commitment offense and / or prior social history, as a continued basis to deny him a parole date, has violated his 5th and 14th Amendment rights under the United States Constitution to not be deprived of his liberty. The Court in Biggs, supra, also held:

"[T]o ensure that a state created parole scheme serves the public interest purposes of rehabilitation and deterrence, the Parole Board must be cognizant not only of the factors required by state statue to be considered, but also the concepts embodied in the Constitution requiring due process of law . . . "[please see e.g. in Greenholtz, 442 U.S. at 7-8.]." (Biggs, supra, 334 F.3d at p. 916)

"The Parole Board's sole supportable reliance on the gravity of the offense and conduct prior to imprisonment to justify denial of Parole can be initially justified as fulfilling the requirements set forth by state law. Over time however, should Biggs continue to demonstrate exemplary behavior and evidence of rehabilitation, denying him a parole date simply because of the nature of his offense and prior conduct would raise serious questions involving his liberty interest in parole . . . . " (id).

Petitioner also submits that the Board has adopted an anti and / or no parole policy per se, or a policy of underinclusion demonstrating a policy of systematic bias; granting only an approximate 232 parole dates out of over 11,000 Board hearings, thus violating the legislative intent of PC § 3041.5, that "... a parole release date shall normally be set in a manner that will provide uniform terms for offenders with crimes of similar gravity and magnitude..." and, petitioner's State and Federal due process rights as well (please refer to In re Ramirez, supra, pg. 565). Petitioner contends that the evidenced behavior by a quasi-judicial Board, of policy demonstrating an approximate 98.5% denial rate, supports the premise that such a policy exists (i. e., anti and / or no parole policy, or, a policy of uderinclusion or systematic bias): this policy violates the strictures of substantive due process.

The existence of said policy in denying parole may explain why the Board only grants parole in less than two (2) percent of the cases it hears; it also explains the bias demonstrated in the passent case

In this case, petitioner's own circumstance, the Board's pronouncement of numerous and unlawful conclusions is not supported by the evidence, and, said violates the process due to petitioner under both the State and Federal Constitutions. Based upon the herein demonstrated bias, the Board's decision cannot be shielded by the "some evidence" standard. The only appropriate standard is independent review.

CONCLUSION

The Board's decision was arbitrary and capricious. The Petitioner did not receive a fair hearing nor will he ever.

Petitioner submits and contends that the finding of unsuitability was arbitrary and capricious (due to the Board carrying out it's political function of adhering to a no or anti-parole policy), due to the Board's acting contrary to the intent and spirit of PC §3041 (b), and, due to it's refusal to adhere to aforementioned decisions and the controlling authorities.

The Petitioner prays this Court order him discharged and / or released, or at the very least, direct the Board to issue a decision within ten (10) days granting parole, setting his term "uniformly" as mandated by the legislature.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

- 1. Issue an Order to Show Cause on an expedited basis
- 2. Appoint Counsel
- 3. Conduct an Evidentary Hearing;
- 4. Order Petitioner's appearance before the Court;
- 5. Order Petitioner taken back before the Board for a finding of suitability within ten (10) days, or in the alternative, order Petitioner released forthwith; and,
- 6. Declatory relief;
- 7. Any other relief this court deems fair, just and appropriate.
